Stories from the Collection

New in 2017

MULTICULTURAL SYDNEY: THE EARLY YEARS

Date: 14 March
Time: 10.30 am to 12.30 pm
Venue: Meet in the Macquarie Street foyer
Cost: $10 + booking fee (bookings essential)

Sydney has been multicultural from its earliest settlement. Explore resources related to the famous Quong Tart, discover more about Billy Blue and other African American convicts, and learn about communities of Afghan, Indian, Chinese and Lebanese migrants in the 1800s.

JOHN GOULD: THE BIRD MAN

Date: 26 July
Time: 10.30 am to 12.30 pm
Venue: Meet in the Macquarie Street foyer
Cost: $10 + booking fee (bookings essential)

John Gould was a British ornithologist and artist. It is estimated that over half a million individual hand-coloured plates of birds and animals were produced under the Gould name. This extraordinary output was the result of Gould's drive and business acumen as well as his ability to develop a strong international group of specimen collectors, artists and administrative agents. Hear about Gould's life and work and see some of his publications from the rare books collection.

HERBALS AND FLOWER BOOKS

Date: 22 September
Time: 10.30 am to 12.30 pm
Venue: Meet in the Macquarie Street foyer
Cost: $10 + booking fee (bookings essential)

Medicinal herbs were valued by the ancient Greeks and are still used today. The 16th and 17th centuries produced many herbals – illustrated books that were the precursor to modern botanical and pharmaceutical textbooks. Flower books came to prominence in the 18th and 19th centuries with significant works by Redouté, Bauer, Hooker, Sowerby, Sweet and Thornton. Learn about and view some of the Library's original and facsimile editions of these beautifully illustrated books.

MEDICAL SYDNEY

Date: 16 November
Time: 10.30 am to 12.30 pm
Venue: Meet in the Macquarie Street foyer
Cost: $10 + booking fee (bookings essential)

Take a medical history tour of Sydney from the First Fleet to the beginnings of the 20th century. Discover the secrets of Western medicine in the early colony and the history of the medical profession in Sydney. Resources include surgeons' journals, manuscripts written by early Sydney doctors, and rare books featuring anatomical drawings and histories of diseases like the bubonic plague. Uncover medical scandals, as we reveal the mysteries behind the medicine. This talk is not for the faint-hearted!
