Overview

In Stage 3, The Australian Colonies provides a study of colonial Australia in the 1800s. Students look at the founding of British colonies and the development of a colony. They learn about what life was like for different groups in the colonial period. They examine significant events and people, political and economic developments, social structures and settlement patterns.

The following are teaching ideas for this stage that incorporate skills and concepts, with links to the State Library of NSW's teaching and learning collection. The teaching ideas are not in any sequence. Teachers should choose those that are suitable for their class and integrate them into their program where relevant.

Syllabus links

- Key Inquiry Questions
- Outcomes
- Skills and Concepts

- What do we know about the lives of people in Australia’s colonial past and how do we know?
- How did an Australian colony develop over time and why?
- How did colonial settlement change the environment?
- What were the significant events and who were the significant people that shaped Australian colonies?

HT-3-1: describes & explains the significance of people, groups, places & events to the development of Australia.

HT-3-2: describes and explains different experiences of people living in Australia over time

HT-3-5: applies a variety of skills of historical inquiry and communication.

Throughout the content, the relevant historical skills and concepts should be taught. The skills and concepts of Perspectives and Empathetic Understanding have been integrated.

History Skills: How Can We Integrate Them?

Comprehension: chronology, terms & concepts

- Respond, read and write to show understanding of historical matters
- Sequence historical people and events
- Use historical terms & concepts.

Students:
• construct a timeline and map of the formation of the varying states leading to Federation
• through discussion and writing, use historical terms and concepts such as Federation, colonial, exploration, environment, frontier conflict.

• Mary Reibey [4]
• Governor Macquarie [5]
• Gold Rush [6]

Analysis and Use of Sources

• Locate information relevant to inquiry questions in a range of sources
• Compare information from a range of sources.

Students:

• through a range of sources, investigate the impact of European settlement and exploration on Aboriginal peoples
• examine a range of sources for colonial life and compose a range of questions to be researched as a class

• Gold Rush [6]

Perspectives and Interpretations (Skill & Concept)

People from the past (or present) will have different views and experiences.

• Identify different points of view in the past & present.

Students:

• research and discuss two varying views towards Federation at the time.
• conduct a class debate between the two varying views towards Federation.
• on a map of the world, locate the countries from which migrants came to Australian in the C19th. Choose a migrant group and explain why they came and their contribution to the society. Identify the range of reasons for migration.

Gold Rush [6]

Empathetic Understanding (Skill & Concept)
Students develop an understanding of another’s views, life and decisions made.

- Explain why the behavior and attitudes of people from the past may differ from today

Students:

- select a range of people in C19th Australia and from sources, compare their experiences and consider how they may vary in their attitude to life in the colony eg convict women, wealthy merchants, landowners, Aboriginal women.
- write a diary account of a day in their life.

- Johnny Kangatong [7]

Research

- Identify & pose questions to inform an historical inquiry
- Identify & locate a range of relevant sources to support an historical inquiry

Students:

- compose interview questions that they may ask an historical character from the time.
- select an early explorer and through sources, explain why the journey was undertaken, the challenges of the journey and the result.

- Governor Macquarie [5]

Explanation and Communication

- Develop historical texts, particularly narratives & descriptions.
- Use a range of communication forms (oral, graphic, written) and digital technologies.

Students:

- compose a newspaper article from the time describing life on the goldfields – or reporting the Eureka Stockade.
- present a book review to class that has contributed to their understanding of C19th Australia.
- in character, students narrate their experiences as an early migrant to C19th Australia.

Historical Concepts: How Can We Integrate Them?

Continuity and Change

Some things change over time & others remain the same.

- Aspects of both continuity & change in Australian society over time.

Students:

- identify how life in C19th Australia either changed or remained the same over time e.g. food, transport, population, work.

- Greenway and Macquarie [8]

Cause and effect

Some causes and effects of an historical event or development e.g. migration to Australia.

Students:

- discuss the reasons for sending convicts to Australia from Britain
- examine the impact of the early Sydney settlement on the local Aboriginal peoples.

Links to Library Learning Sequences:

- Caroline Chisholm [3]
- Governor Macquarie [5]
- Gold Rush [6]

Significance

- the importance of the contributions of individuals and groups to their times.

Students:
• are given 5 important early settlers or officials to NSW. They research their lives and decide why each was most significant to the development of the colony. Students justify their choice.
• research the Eureka Stockade. How significant was this event to Australian democracy?
• debate: Ned Kelly : hero or villain?

Links to Library Learning Sequences:

• Caroline Chisholm [3]
• Mary Reibey [4]
• Governor Macquarie [5]
• Greenway and Macquarie [8]
• Gold Rush [6]

Contestability

Historical events or issues may be interpreted differently by historians eg. British ‘invasion’ or ‘settlement’.

Students:

• are provided with each of the above arguments and decide which is the most plausible based on available sources.
