Opening of Anzac War Memorial, Sydney, by Duke of Gloucester

by Sam Hood
Situated towards the southern end of Hyde Park on the main avenue, the ANZAC Memorial stands 30 metres high. On its northern approach is the 'Lake of Reflections', bordered by poplar trees in memory of the battle areas of France. Built as a tribute to the Australian Imperial Force, it was officially opened by His Royal Highness, the Duke of Gloucester on 24 November 1934.

Call Number:
Home and Away - 3502 [1]

Published date:
24 Nov 1934

Links